Nigel Cabourn Documentation by Tenue de Nimes

Posted by Mark Robinson on July 1, 2010 at 11:18 am in fashion

I'm looking forward to this Nigel Cabourn feature coming in the new Journal de Nîmes by Tenue de Nimes. AnotherSomething give us a quick preview of the visit, in which shows Joachim and the boys in Nigel's apartment, also we get to know a bit about the experience they had in England. The good weather over here must of helped.

They said "two days with Nigel Cabourn gave us enough inspiration for the coming years...", which is in no doubt true, I bet Nigel has racks of inspiring vintage clothing and other paraphernalia.

But guess what, we will have to wait before we can view it. All i can say is, stay tuned.

Head over to the Anothersomething site for a quick preview - www.anothersomething.org

Thanks for the heads up on the camping article. Traditional winter camping's popularity has been making slow, but steady progress over the past decade or more. Minnesota and Wisconsin have numerous small firms turning out gear and clothing, several of which were mentioned in the article. Traditional gear is heavier, but a lot more comfortable, especially once in camp at the end of a day. My own kit is a mixed bag of old and new, eventually I'll go all the way. The modern bible of this is The Snow Walkers Companion.

The MJ camping article was excellent. I looked up "Empire Canvas Works" referenced in the article and they have some unbelievable looking gear (I'm digging the coats big time!).

Thanks Mr. Williams for making us aware of this Nigel Cabourn interview. Really enjoyed listening to him speak so passionately about his garments. More brands should be fronted with a man of this caliber. Down right admirable.

Nigel Cabourn Interview

Nigel Cabourn has been on top of his game for a while now, when I posted his AW/09 jacket on here last year he was only in a select few stores and not much press. Now every decent store and magazine are looking to feature his gear.

Specialist denim store Tenue de Nimes in France sent us this interview they did with Nigel Cabourn himself back in 2009.

From the interview you can see how thorough this guy is, his research methods are second to none and his passion is still evident...

NIGEL CABOURN SECONDO TENUE DE NIMES

Ho sempre avuto l'impressione che Nigel Cabourn fosse un simpatico uomo di mezza età con una forte passione per la tradizione. Ora che i ragazzi di Tenue de Nimes hanno pubblicato questo video di Nigel che mostra la sua SS2010 collection, ne ho la certezza.

Nigel Cabourn Apartment Visit by Tenue de Nîmes

July 01, 2010 — Posted by: Patrick in Fashion

For the next Journal de Nîmes by Tenue de Nîmes the team went out on a field trip to visit Nigel Cabourn home in England. Documentation of how they spent their days together and their time in England are captured, the team at Tenue de Nîmes state, "two days with Nigel Cabourn gave us enough inspiration for the coming years...". I'm sure this feature will make for a great read along with some inspiring images of his home and eclectic collections of clothing, belongings and books.

Nigel Cabourn 2010 Spring/Summer Collection Interview

BY STAFF, FEBRUARY 25, 2010

In December 2009, Tenue de Nimes did an interview with Nigel Cabourn in Amsterdam. Nigel was asked to present his inspiration for the new Spring/Summer 2010 collection, inspired by the contents of Nigel's Father's army handbook. He used this as a diary during his time in India and Burma between 1942 and 1945.

NIGEL CABOURN VISIT

— Ryan Wilton

Details

— via Nigel in his Kensington studio.

Words

Nigel Cabourn is definitely one of our favorite brands, and one of our favorite people. He's the type of character you never forget meeting. He's always got a story, and whether it's about a past collection or how he achieved the vintage work on his summer suit, they're always entertaining. Franklin from Apartment and Journal de Nives recently had the chance to stop with him in Newcastle. Find out more about his collection for W&A and take some photos of Nigel in his natural habitat.

Only a quick one today: Over at Anothersomething there's a couple of posts from the guys at Tuenes de Nimes, who are staying with Nigel Cabourn in Newcastle whilst writing an article documenting the brand he's spent so many years building.

There are some great shots on there that I thought I'd show here but get over to their site for the full run down. I'm looking forward to the next issue of Journal de Nimes even more now!

I'm in awe/envy on his studio space. One day...

Nigel Cabourn Studio Visit

Tenue de Nîmes sent us a video from their studio visit with outerwear master Nigel Cabourn in Amsterdam. Asked to expound on his influences for the spring collection, Nigel says he was inspired by the contents of his father's Army handbook. "He used this as a diary during his time in India and Burma between 1942 and 1945." The video's making its way around the web today, but we had to share it here.
